The 100th Collegiate Dairy Products Evaluation Contest Is Dedicated to

Matthew Siedschlaw

On behalf of the Board of Directors, it is a pleasure to dedicate the 101st Collegiate Dairy Products Evaluation Contest in honor of Matthew Siedschlaw. Matt has been associated with the Collegiate Dairy Products Judging contest for over 25 years.

Matt first became involved with the contest as a contestant in 2000. He won the All Products and Butter categories, and placed third in Ice Cream to help SDSU take 2nd place that year. Matt has served as a butter judge and a key behind the scenes contributor and then applying his leadership as the contest superintendent in 2023 and 2024. His deep knowledge of the contest rules was key to designing and testing the electronic scoring system during the transition. Matt's passion for the contest is evident from the dedication and leadership he continues to provide.

Matthew Siedschlaw serves as Contract Specialist for the USDA AMS Commodity Procurement Program. He has over 24 years of experience in the dairy industry and leverages his extensive experience in dairy product marketing and evaluation to support the procurement of domestic food products for the USDA feeding programs. In addition, Matthew has served as the USDA advisor to the Board of Directors of the North Central Cheese Industries Association since 2022.
